

Mina Ho - Next Winner in Line

Mina Ho at the Disney Animation Boot Camp in Monterey

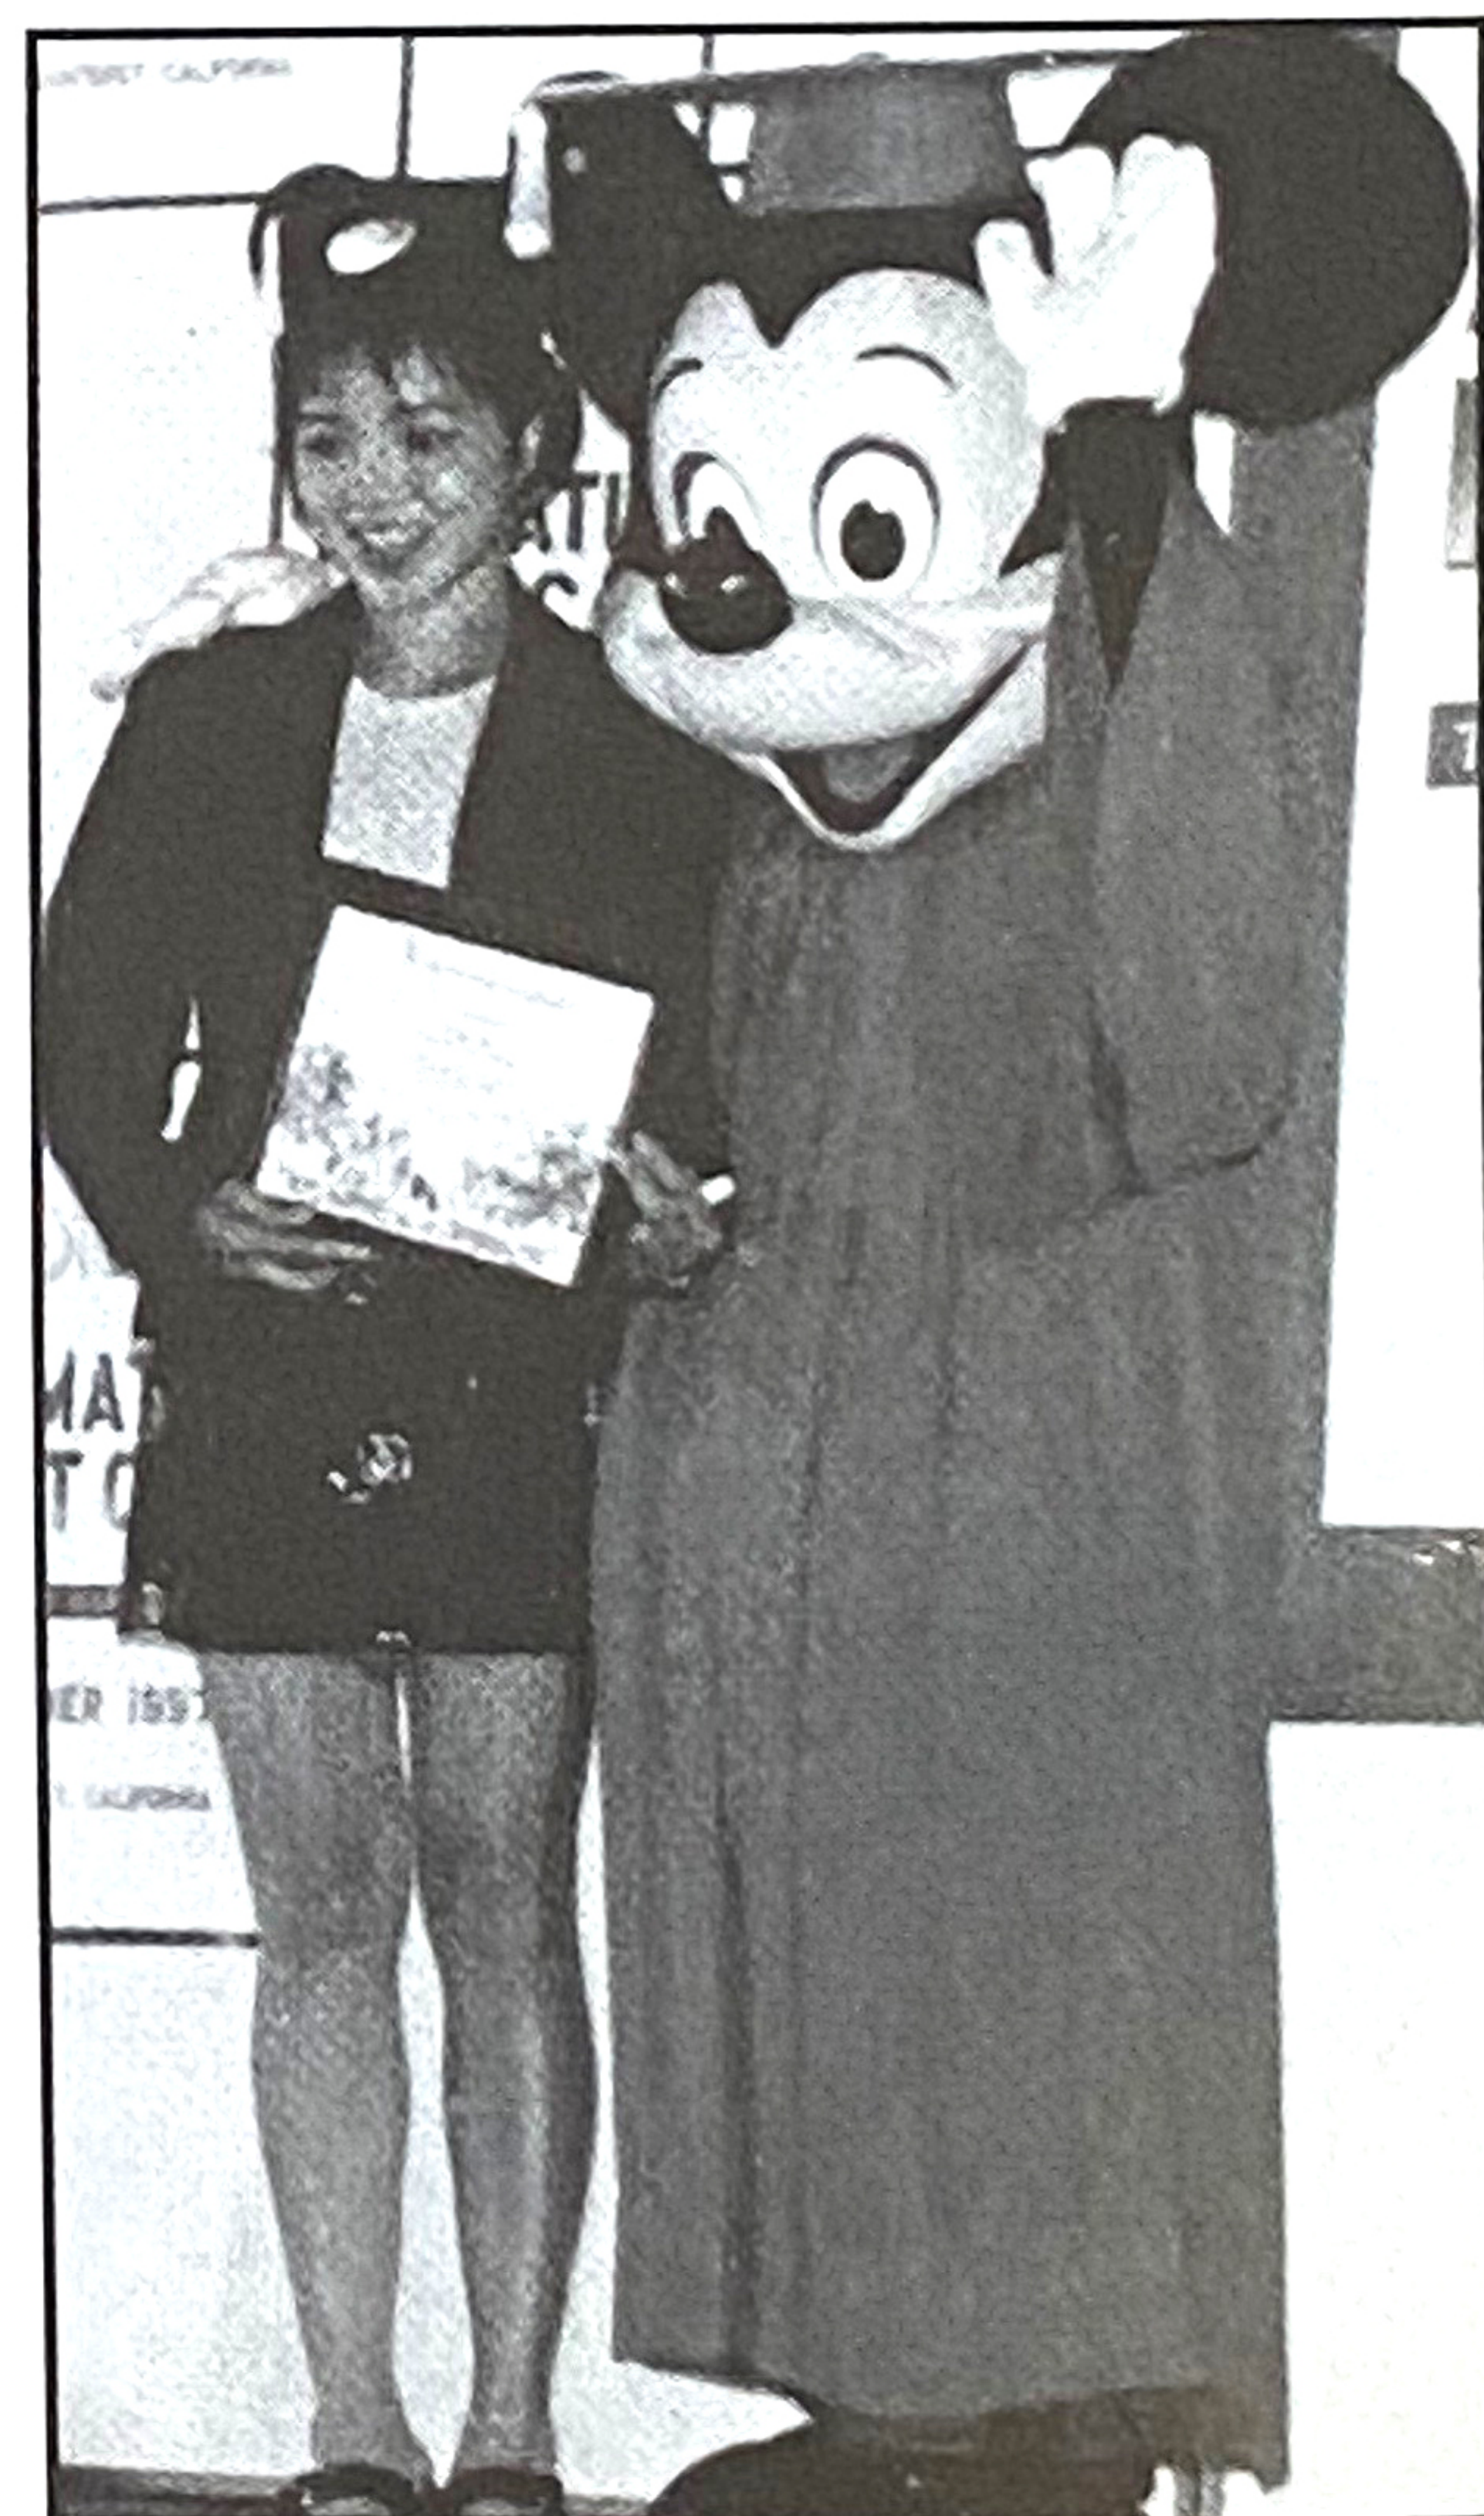

Mina Ho, an illustration senior, has won a Disney scholarship. This means that her last year's tuition is paid for and she can look forward to a guaranteed job upon graduation.

The illustration department sent out word that 13 schools had been canvassed for students to participate in the Disney summer animation workshop, AKA boot camp. Thirty-five students were selected, and Mina came out on top.

Last year Mina took first place in the Strathmore illustration contest. One of her pictures will be in the San Francisco Society of Illustrators show at our 551 Sutter gallery, Oct. 13 - Nov. 7.

Mina is the third in line of the Ho family to attend the Academy. Her brother, Elwood Ho, an art director, is an advertising alum. Her sister, Ngan-Ha Ho, a recent photography graduate, won the California Dream contest sponsored by Mumm Cuvée Napa and Canon USA last year.
